WORKSHOP ON ACADEMIC WRITING
& STUDY SKILLS IN ENGLISH

Writing presents a fairly challenging task for both native and nonnative speakers of English. For students of English as a Foreign Language (EFL), it seems fair to say that writing academic papers is particularly difficult. EFL students must learn to create written products that demonstrate mastery in all areas of language. It is this multiplicity of skills involved that contributes to the overall difficulty in academic writing.

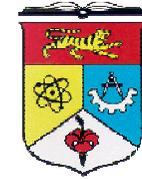

Realizing these difficulties faced by some students, the Centre for Graduate Studies, UKM with the assistance of experts from the British High Commission and the British Ladies Association will conduct a two day workshop on academic writing in English to assist international students in academic writing.

OBJECTIVE OF WORKSHOP

The objectives of this workshop are:

1. to highlight some of the possible pitfalls of writing in English;
2. to provide a range of techniques and vocabulary to enable the postgraduate to write clear, well-structured material.
